Who I am?

Hi, my name is Christian Monrabal and this is my card presentation.

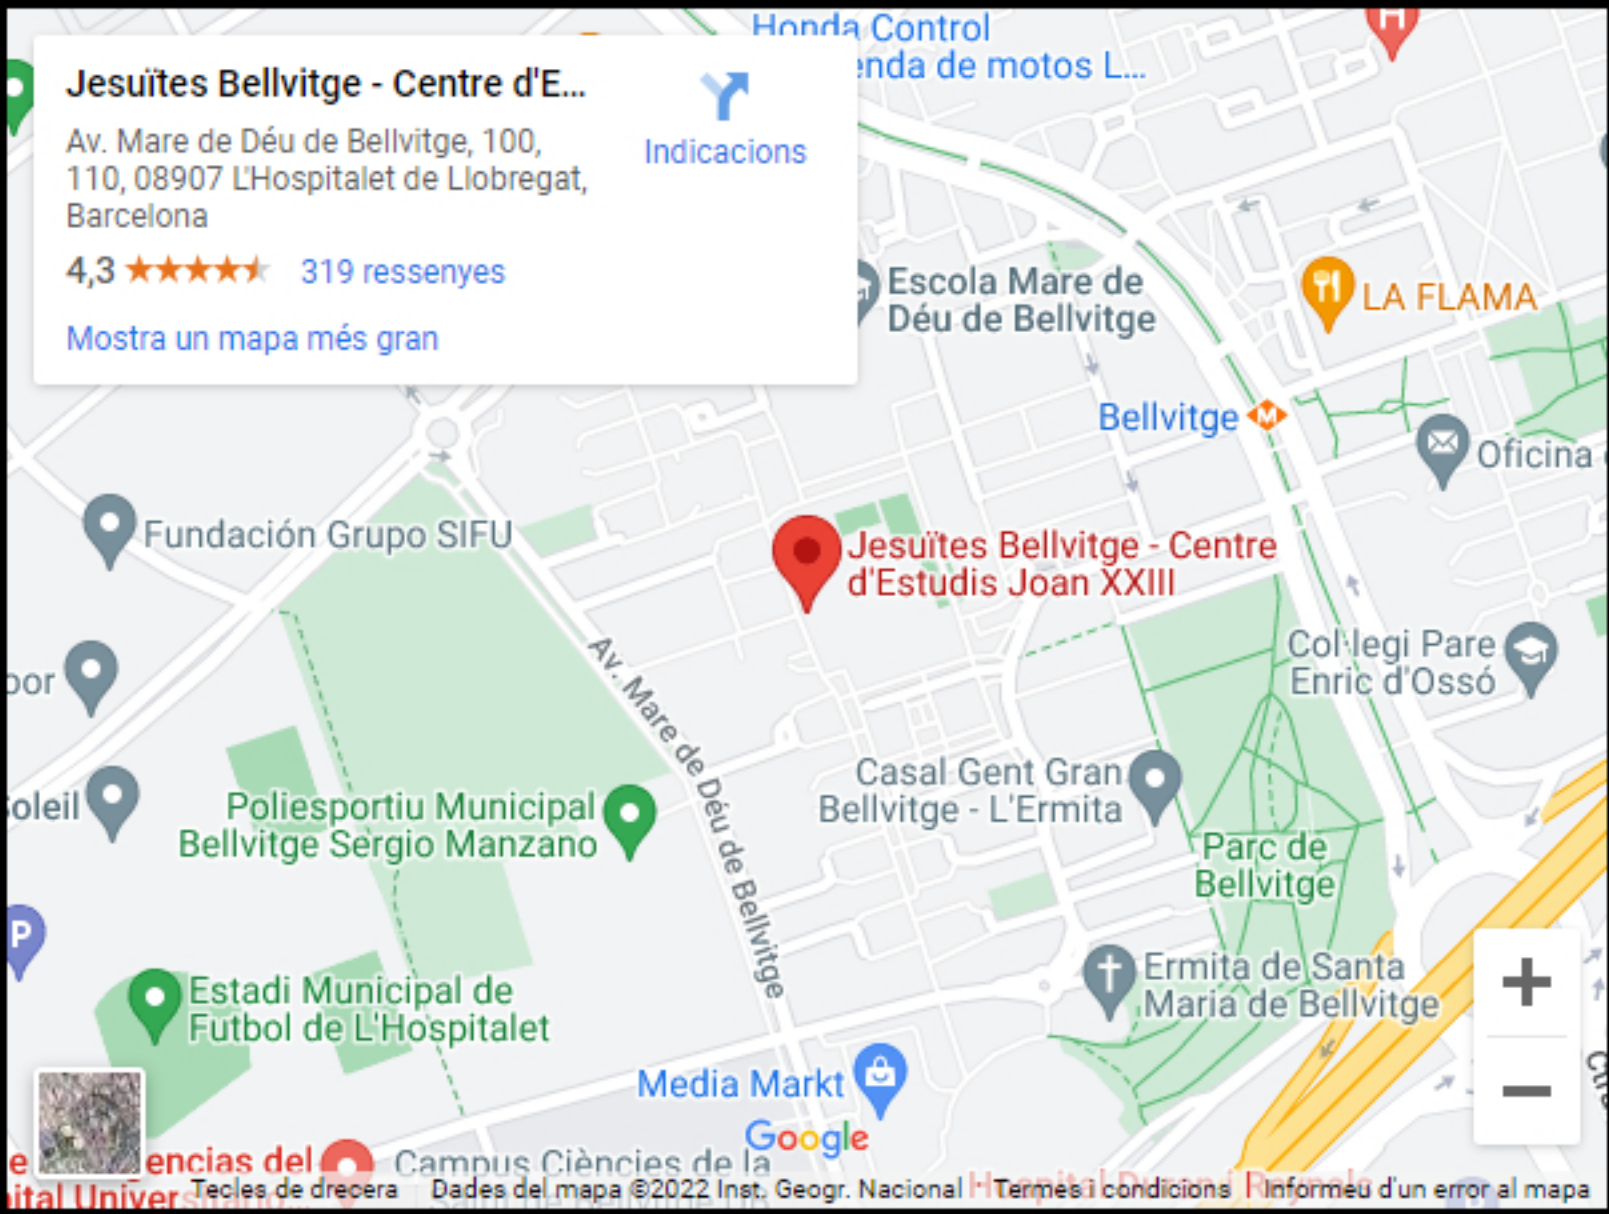

To begin with, my professional objective is to become a computer technician, and for this I am currently studying it.

I am a very nice and happy person, I love being with my friends as long as there is no Formula 1 weekend, since one of my passions is the motor world.

Since I was little I have worked in a team so I am good at directing it and having the initiative myself.

To finish, I love the Linux world but I use Windows, also HTML and Java Script.

And that's it!
